EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

DATA

Intakes

The Review Board received a significant increase in complaints in 2007: from 108 complaints with 280 allegations¹ in 2006, to 141 complaints with 507 allegations in 2007. These figures represented a 31% increase in total complaints and an 81% increase in total allegations. Included in the yearly total were 7 death cases, compared to 9 death cases opened in 2006. Complaint trends over several years show spikes upward and downward without specific causal factors.

Sheriff's facilities or units with double digit complaint totals increased slightly from 3 in 2006 to 4 in 2007. Leading in complaint totals as they have in past years were the Sheriff's Department's largest jails, the George Bailey Detention Facility with 29 (22 in 2006), followed by the San Diego Central Jail with 18 (19 in 2006.) The next highest in complaints was Encinitas Station with 11 (Santee Station had 10 in 2006.). The Probation Department received the same number of complaints – 7 – in 2007 as in 2006.

Total complaints are traditionally broken into three departmental segments by count and percentage: Sheriff's Detention with 62 or 44% (compared to 53 or 50% in 2006); Sheriff's Law Enforcement & Other with 72 or 51 % (compared to 48 or 44% in 2006); and Probation with 7 or 5% (compared to 7 or 6% in 2006).

¹ Allegations are individual acts – or categories of misconduct. Complaint cases typically have multiple allegations. Allegation totals can also be compounded by the number of deputies named in a given case. Finally, as case investigations are completed, the

Closures

The Review Board met 10 times² and closed 96 cases during the year, compared to meeting 11 times and closing 141 cases in 2006. This 32% decrease in case closures is attributed to the corresponding (31%) increase in new complaints and staff time devoted to taking in new cases rather than completing existing cases. Additionally, 10 of the cases closed were death cases, which are the most substantive type of case that staff investigates and Board Members review. Of the 96 cases closed, 36 were Procedurally Closed for lack of jurisdiction or because a signed complaint was not returned to the office. This was comparable to the 39 that were Procedurally Closed in 2006. "PC" cases accounted for 26 % of the year's complaint total (141), compared to 36 % of last year's total (108). Another 14 cases were submitted to the Review Board for Summary Dismissal following an abbreviated investigative process. This was a 52% decrease from the 29 Summary Dismissal cases in 2006. The remaining 46 cases were fully investigated and submitted to the Review Board, compared to 76 fully investigated cases submitted in 2006, a 39% decrease. Of the 46 fully investigated cases, 4 or 8.7%, had Sustained allegations, compared to 5 or 6.6% of the 76 fully investigated cases in 2006. Of the 46 fully investigated cases, the total number of sustained allegations was 8, representing 5.8% of the 138 findings made in fully investigated cases.

At year's end there were 81 open cases, a 125% increase from the 36 open cases at the end of 2006. This increase in inventory is consistent with taking in allegation totals are subject to change as factual information is established.

² The July and October 2007 meetings were cancelled due to scheduling conflicts and the region's wildfires, respectively.

more cases than were closed in 2007. The only case investigations that went beyond one year were death cases, which typically involve lengthy prior investigation by the Sheriff's Homicide Unit and the District Attorney's Office.

PERSONNEL

John Parker retired in March after serving as executive officer for ten years. The Review Board selected Carol Trujillo, a former prosecutor, as executive officer. Board Members Allen R. Miliefsky (Third District), Glenn Quiroga (Second District), Kourosch Hangafarin (Fifth District), and Patrick Hunter (Third District) left the board. Mr. Hunter joined the City of San Diego's Citizens' Review Board on Police Practices, of which he was a long-time member before joining the Review Board, as its executive director. The County Board of Supervisors appointed George DeLaBarre (Fourth District), James Achenbach (Second District), Sheryl Bennett (Fifth District), and Riley Gordon (Third District). The Review Board's liaison with the Sheriff's Department was Assistant Sheriff Michele Braatz. The Review Board's processor at the Sheriff's Department, Sergeant Anthony Giammarino, was promoted to lieutenant and was succeeded by Sergeant Anthony Ray. Mack Jenkins, formerly the Director of Juvenile Field Services of the Orange County Probation Department in Anaheim, California, was appointed as Chief Probation Officer. Supervising Probation Officer Cesar Escuro continued to serve as the Review Board's liaison at the Probation Department.

COMMUNITY

To enhance transparency, the Review Board began publishing expanded case information in its agendas, listing the allegation with deputy or probation officer names redacted, staff's recommended finding, and the supporting rationale.

The Review Board continued to reach out to the community, publishing updated brochures in English and Spanish, thanks to the translation skills of Special Investigator Julio Estrada. Staff answered questions and distributed brochures at a neighborhood forum in the Solana Beach community of Eden Gardens, LEAD San Diego's LEADerTrend Series workshop on Board and Commissions, and at meetings of the Mexican Consulate, the San Diego District Attorney's investigators, and the City of San Diego's Citizens' Review Board on Police Practices. Additionally, staff and Board Members gave a presentation in English and Spanish to the Latino Advisory Committee of the Sheriff's Department's Vista Station. The Sheriff's Department and Probation Department added links from their websites to the Review Board's website. The Review Board also was interviewed as a model for complaint investigation by representatives of the California Highway Patrol, Orange County, Los Angeles County and Humbolt County in California and San Antonio, Texas.

CUSTOMER SERVICE

Review Board staff continued a strong tradition of customer service. Comments from customer satisfaction surveys returned in 2007 included: "It's more help than I've yet to receive." "Quick, fast, friendly service." "My call was answered and I was walked through what would happen next...Very polite and helpful." "The service is great." "CLERB was very easy to access online." "A welcome surprise."

The investigation failed to support the allegation, but the allegation could not be shown to be false.

Procedurally Closed:
