

Kevin Karpé is the CEO and Founder of Diverse Vector Aviation Consulting LLC (DVAC). Mr. Karpé was an Air Traffic Controller and Air Traffic Manager with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Air Traffic Organization (ATO) for 31 years, and is a Veteran of the US Navy where he served on ashore and afloat commands.

DVAC is a Certified Veteran Owned Small Business and provides services for aerospace and aviation organizations including airspace and procedure design, noise and environmental review, municipality assistance, evaluation of Advanced Air Mobility (AAM) and Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS), focusing on integration requirements of these new entrants into the National Airspace System (NAS). DVAC also provides support and expertise to FAA contract ATC towers and their activities associated with Quality Assurance, Safety Management Systems, and training.

Mr. Karpe's FAA air traffic control and manager experience include assignments at Gillespie Field Control Tower, Montgomery Field Control Tower, San Diego International Airport Control Tower, and Southern California Terminal Radar Approach Control. He also held assignments at the FAA's Western-Pacific Regional Headquarters, in Los Angeles.

Mr. Karpé and his family have been residents of San Marcos since 2015, and he is currently serving his second term as a member of the Palomar Airport Advisory Committee. He is a member of the Lawyer-Pilot Bar Association, San Diego Regional Aircraft Association, and is an alternate on the City of San Marcos General Plan Committee.
