Dr. Zack Shinar

Zack Shinar is chair of emergency medicine at Sharp Memorial Hospital in San Diego, California. He helped pioneer extracorporeal cardiopulmonary resuscitation for patients in cardiac arrests.

He has published extensively in the field of resuscitation and is co-editor of the recently released ELSO ECPR textbook. His recent paper in the Journal of Emergency Medicine has given credence to emergency physician initiated ECMO. He hosts the EDECMO podcast, co-chairs the Emergency ECMO program, directs the ECMO/REBOA conference “Reanimate,” and speaks around the world on the subject.

He was chief resident at Los Angeles County Emergency Medicine Residency. He studied medicine at the University of Southern California and bioengineering at the University of Pennsylvania.

He is also active in education of the youth including the Emerge the Conference project. He is an avid endurance athlete enjoying marathons, ultra-marathons, ironman triathlons, surfing and mountain biking.
