

Air Quality in Schools Training

A one-session training for students throughout San Diego to learn about airborne diseases and prevention. A train-the-trainer option is available for school staff.

Students Learn About

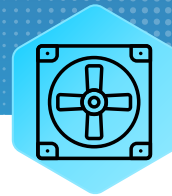

Public Health, with a focus on epidemiology.

Impact of air quality on health and student performance.

How ventilation can prevent the spread of communicable diseases.

How to build a Corsi-Rosenthal (CR) box.

Since October 2023

6
Participating schools

415
Students trained

Students found the hands-on portion of the training very fun.