

Mary Davis, Commissioner

Mary Davis is a retiree who blossomed into a later-in-life government-watchdog activist. A member of the Alpine Community Planning Group, she passionately advocates for the rights of everyday people at the local level. She now aspires to use her voice on the Commission to promote equality for women and girls in all spaces and places – from the classroom, to the boardroom, to the tops of podiums. Her special areas of focus will be teens and seniors – two under-represented demographics which far too frequently only serve as bookends for the larger expanse of Women's Equality and Rights.

