

James & Agatha Youngblood/ Cliff May House

The Youngblood/ Cliff May House is located in Rancho Santa Fe and was built in 1973 in the California Ranch architectural style. Designed by Clifford May, the residence maintains much of its original architectural components and continues to convey a high degree of historical integrity from its period of significance.