Hello,

I live in SD East County and strongly support the recent maps as outlined on sdcountyredistrictingmap.org/supervisors , which keeps many of my current East County communities together. We need to keep our rural communities connected as such: El Cajon, Alpine, Poway, Santee, Crest, Lakeside, Descanso, Rancho Bernardo, Jamul, Pine Valley, Escondido and such. We all share common interests, and desire to preserve our small family feel communities.

I moved away from the over crowded cities in the Oakland Bay Area 18 years ago to slow down and enjoy the rural country life that I so love in Eucalyptus Hills. We have such a slower paced lifestyle here, large parcels, filled with horses, goats, chickens, roosters, and so many variety of birds that just detaches you from the rush of a long day at work.

My family purchase our home in 1959, and I will pass our homestead onto my children some day. Therefore it is very important to me to preserve our long-standing neighboring communities who share common interests. I urge you to keep us together!

Thank you for taking into consideration the unique qualities and interest that SD East County offers. We all share common economic, social and cultural interests and need to be kept together.
